QuestSoft Integrates D+H's LaserPro® into Compliance RELIEF Solution for Enhanced Regulatory Reporting

LAGUNA HILLS, CALIF., August 24, 2015 – QuestSoft has enhanced its proven interface to D+H's LaserPro® to now pull more data elements than ever before into Compliance RELIEF, the company's new all-encompassing regulatory solution. In addition, the interface enhancements have been reverse engineered to work with QuestSoft's legacy products, HMDA RELIEF and CRA RELIEF. QuestSoft has integrated D+H's LaserPro compliant loan origination and document preparation solution to automate end-to-end mortgage and investor compliance reporting during the loan origination process.

Compliance RELIEF offers analysis and reporting for Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA), Community Reinvestment Act (CRA), Fair Lending, NMLS Call Reporting and Geocoding Verification Services under one integrated compliance umbrella. The integration with LaserPro enables QuestSoft users to automatically collect loan data, verify the accuracy of addresses, compile reports and submit them to the appropriate agencies.

"Complete integration is essential to quick and accurate reporting in today's regulatory environment," said Mitch Lucas, vice president, product management & legal compliance at D+H. "The Compliance RELIEF and LaserPro integration helps our mutual clients collect and report HMDA and CRA data in a seamless and efficient manner."

Compliance RELIEF features a secure single interface that accesses the subscribed modules. At the same time, the software stores and spans multiple data reporting years for consistency and more meaningful analysis. This approach lessens the training burden and establishes uniform data integrity standards. It also enables the program to easily accommodate future compliance regulations at both the federal and state level. Compliance RELIEF is designed to operate in any modern Windows platform. The product also contains integrated digital mapping and up to date market data for comparison to peers.

“Our decades-long relationship with D+H continues to allow QuestSoft to deliver compliance innovation and solutions that their customers have grown to know and trust,” said Carey Aimone, vice president of QuestSoft. “The Compliance RELIEF integration includes fair lending fields and many new prompts that we anticipate to be mandatory once the CFPB finalizes the new HMDA rules. This will ensure that D+H’s LaserPro clients have the most comprehensive and accurate compliance reporting available in the industry.”
